Cashel Forest Trust

This year we have partnered with another beautiful natural site to provide even more opportunities to explore and learn during the festival. Cashel Forest Trust is a reforestation project on the banks of Loch Lomond, and provides a rather different woodland environment to our Tir na nOg site.

As part of the free activities offered this year, there will be three field trips per day leaving the main festival site from the Bus Stop. Enjoy a Wild Shuttle Bus ride up the East side of Loch Lomond to the Cashel site before joining Ranger Emma Sandhu for an informative walk through the woods, focussing on the wild food to be found in Cashel.

The journey takes approximately 20 minutes each way.

Field Trip Buses leave at 11.00, 12.30 and 14.00 on Saturday, and 11.00, 12.15 and 14.00 on Sunday (ideal timing to grab a packed lunch from the Soup Dragon to take with you and eat in the woods).

The site is also close to Cashel Campsite, so festival attendees camping there can also join the walks (sessions start when buses arrive at 11.30, 13.00/12.45, 14.30). Buses will also stop at the campsite road end for transport to and from the festival site at intervals through the day. Please see the bus timetable for more info. Find out more about Cashel at www.cashel.org.uk

Shuttle bus schedule

Our shuttle bus time timetable connects the festival site to Balfron and onwards via public transport links to Stirling and Glasgow.

Long Table Meal

Rupert Waites, head chef, master forager and wild flavour expert at Buck & Birch,
may spend most of his time
conjuring award winning spirits and liqueurs from his findings but that doesn't mean he can't find time for a spot of cooking.
Join the Buck & Birch team for a journey of wild flavour exploration.

SWFF Digital Pass for £10

Get the Buck & Birch full range miniatures set to drink

SWFF 2023!

Introducing the SWFF Digital Pass

We hope you had a fascinating and enjoyable visit, but we know that it's impossible to see and do everything that's on offer. If you're hungry for more, we have just the thing! This year we're offering an online festival pass featuring a selection of our most inspiring foragers, chefs and educators. It's your ticket to learning about Scotland's incredible natural larder, from anywhere, at anytime. Perfect if there was something you couldn't squeeze in over the weekend, something you would love to revisit, or a gift for someone who should have been here.

Planned recordings include***

- ALL THINGS SEAWEED with Edulis Wild Foods
- MEDICINAL MUSHROOMS with MycoBee
- DRINK THE UNTHINKABLE with Buck & Birch
- WILD FOOD & AGROECOLOGY with Upper Ballaird Farm Group; and
- FLOWERING MEADOWS & WILD HARVESTS: Lessons from Croft Living with Wendy Barrie

all edited into 40-60 min videos.
